BUYERS LOOK FOR COMFORT WHEN SELECTING CLOTHING

Agreeing that "comfort" in clothing was very important, most Cleveland students wore leisure-activity clothes to school. However, students who work at local clothing stores predict styles will be changing soon.

"The clothing trend seems to be going towards much dressier outfits than in the past," related Judy Ha, senior, who works at Nordstrom's, a retail clothing store.

Girls seemed to enjoy the baggy top look with straight-leg jeans. Popular accessories, "to dress up" an outfit, included belts, bow ties, scarves, vests and high-heel shoes, leather boots or clogs.

Guys wore T-shirts, sport shirts, wool shirts and a variety of pants, including jeans, cords and slacks. Blue and khaki were the favorite colors.

Shoe styles, also selected for a comfortable fit, ranged from sport shoes to clogs to hiking boots to Famolares.

Guys haircuts were shorter, while the girls worked on growing out their hair to feature a curl or frizzy permanent.

'BROTHERS & FRIENDS' JAM FOR HOMECOMING AUDIENCE

Autumn Rain Dance, theme of the fall Executive Council-sponsored Homecoming dance Oct. 12 featured the group "Brothers and Friends" and drew a crowd of 425 people.

"Although the dance was poorly planned and unorganized, I thought it turned out well," commented junior Jeff Lindquist, second vice president and chairman of the Social Activities Board. "We were happy so many people came."

Couples voted sophomores Ann Chrisman and Arron Booker, Queen and King, respectively, to reign over the 1978 Homecoming celebration, which followed the Cleveland-Franklin Varsity football game at Civic Stadium.

Members of the Queen's court included seniors Lynn Whitfield and Carmina Betancourt; juniors Quan Jue and Amy Gibbs and sophomore Cara Beard. On the King's court were seniors Wade Overgaard and Charles Leggett; juniors Brad McMurchie and Bill Roth and sophomore Brad Willard.

"'Brothers and Friends' music was enjoyable, but I wish I would have danced more," related Kristy Graetzer, junior. Profits totaled $473 to bolster the student body's treasury.

COUNCIL BEGINS PROJECTS TO INSTILL SCHOOL PRIDE

"Our fall Executive Council was concerned with developing new ideas plus sponsoring the traditional activities held each year," related Todd Kelly, fall student body president.

Realizing this goal, the Council established the mural program, began a Rose Festival Princess and Queen display, and assigned each officer specific jobs for the term.

Following a first time ever fall "Picnic in the Park" held at Powell Park, the Council sponsored the "really successful" Homecoming week, Oct. 10-13. "A lot of school participation in the events pleased us," said Kelly.

"The United Way fund raising week was the best we've had in years. We raised more money than ever by auctioning off teachers to be 'whip creamed,' in a fall pep assembly," he recalled.

"Everyone on our cabinet worked hard and was easy to get along with," praised Kelly. "It was a good term."

APATHY HURTS ATTENDANCE AT THIS YEAR'S ASSEMBLIES

Many students interviewed expressed the feelings that most assemblies were "boring" and that "there weren't enough of them." "The pep assemblies were considered relatively decent but the other assemblies were hurt by apathy. Too many kids would rather sleep in on assembly days," observed sophomore Peter Norville. The pep assemblies planned by the rallies were the best attended. "We were really pleased that so many students attended and showed their support for our athletic teams", related fall Varsity rally member Erna Robertson.

Other assemblies featured the Rick Trowe multi-media presentation which visits each year, folk singer Bessie Jones, the Freedom Jam concert and the Portland Dance Theatre. Human Relations Week, held in January, presented the Living Rock Choir, composed of Cleveland students, and folksinger Willa Dorsey.

GIRLS' LEAGUE HIGHLIGHT, 'ROCK-N-BEE-BOP,' A SUCCESS

Using a '50's theme, "Rock-N-Bee-Bop," the fall Girls' League cabinet sponsored its annual Twirp (girl-ask-boy) dance on Nov. 9. Featuring the group, "Vegas", the dance was termed "successful" by Rachel Kale, president, "because we made $500 and we had a good crowd."

Disappointments, though, did arise during the term. "I was really unhappy with our apathetic cabinet. It was always the same girls who helped out and showed up for meetings and parties. I know we would have had a better term if everyone would have cooperated," Kale said.

The Girls' League president credited juniors Sue Lambert and Kim Morris for doing a "really good job" with the only Twirp week activity, the "Send a Kiss to a Friend." Kisses, sent from secret admirers, were delivered in reg rooms. The cabinet also sponsored caramel apple sales and sold chocolate kisses during Twirp week.

At the traditional Big-Little Sister parties in September and October, the president was happy with the turnout of the freshmen girls. "We had a lot of fun and the freshmen enjoyed themselves."

Kale had special thanks for Cathy Leaverton, vice president, "who attended our meetings regularly and gave much of her time."

THOUGH BAND DISAPPOINTS, CHRISTMAS SEMI ENJOYED

"Moonlight and Mistletoe" was chosen as this year's theme for the Christmas semi-formal, once again held in the Portland State University Ballroom and sponsored by the fall Executive Council.

The group "Shaniko, which performed at the dance, was disappointing to many who attended. "I expected the group to be a lot better," was a popular response.

"Dennis Hipes, senior, masqueraded as Santa Claus and passed out candy canes and jolly "Ho-Ho's" to enhance the Christmas theme," according to Jeff Lindquist, student body second vice president.

The spring Executive Council has a harder time than fall because not as many activities are planned for the spring," explained Miss Martha Ireland, adviser. Some of the activities sponsored in the spring included the Portland Dance Theatre assembly, the food drive, and a no-penalty period for those students possessing overdue books.

A new activity, an Art/Cultural Fair, was presented following the spring play, "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon Marigolds." The art segment of the Fair included Cleveland students exhibiting and selling their ceramics, jewelry, paintings, sketches and photographs. The language clubs also participated by selling foods and doing demonstrations.

Reacting to a surprise announcement by the administration that an eight period schedule would replace the modular system, spring president Gretchen Spence said, "I was very disappointed that the administration placed so little value on our opinions. Student government is very important, and I hope that in the future the administration pays more attention to our input about important issues."

IRISH FANTASY HIGHLIGHTS 'FINIAN'S RAINBOW' TALE

Selected as this year's spring musical, "Finian's Rainbow" finished with a "surprising, but happy" outcome. Due to an unexpected winter ice storm, "the rehearsals were frustrating, but the musical took a surprising turn-around the day before it was to be presented," commented Mr. Bruce Johnson, choral director.

Other directors for the annual production were Mrs. Bev Stocking, drama; Mr. Robert Kerns, instrumental; Mr. Norman Eng, art; and Ms. Mollie Hart, choreographer.

"Finian's Rainbow," is a story about Finian (Steve Rooklidge) and his daughter Sharon (Lolita Ritmanis) who go to a town, Rainbow Valley, Missitucky after Finian steals a pot of gold from a leprechaun, Og (Phil Richardson) in Gloccomorra, Ireland. Finian then buys a very small area of land from Woody (Brad McMurchie), his "business partner," and buries the pot of gold to make it grow.

Meanwhile, Og follows Finian to get his gold back because he is turning mortal without it. Later on in the story, Woody and Sharon are married.

"Considering the fact that we had about a week and a half cut because of the ice storm, the cast really came through and did a spectacular job," McMurchie said. "It took a lot of work, but the audience reaction showed people were pleased, which made it all worthwhile."

SPRING FASHIONS FEATURED AS GIRLS' ESCORT FATHERS

Despite lack of cabinet participation and only 16 girls who "contributed regularly to the cabinet," spring Girls' League "continued to sponsor our traditional activities," related Lisa Langston, president.

The father/daughter banquet, held in February at the downtown Elks, once again featured Cleveland girls modeling spring fashions, compliments of Clairs' Young East, a local clothing store located on Milwaukie Ave. "Everything was well organized, but I wish more people would have come," commented Langston. About 150 attended.

The spring cabinet began making some plans for its term after the installation lunch held at the La Cantina Restaurant in January. On the agenda was a mother/daughter tea, a big-little sister party, and a visit to the Odd Fellows Home. At press time, no details about these activities were available.

PRINCESS CATHY LEAVERTON RECEIVES SCHOOL APPROVAL

A standing ovation along with thunderous screams and applause echoed throughout the auditorium as 1978 Rose Festival Princess Lin Kunz crowned Cathy Leaverton as Cleveland's 1979 Princess.

Princess Cathy was chosen from seven finalists: Nannette Blakely, Marylin Colley, Maureen Flaherty, Kelly Jo Graetzer, Sarah Harding and Jennifer Robison. The top seven were selected from 14 semi-finalists by Rose Festival Association judges on he basis of appearance, poise and speech.

Princess Cathy plans to attend the University of Puget Sound next fall to pursue a career in physical therapy.

After several weeks of public appearances, luncheons and visits to various places in the state, the 1979 Rose Festival Senior Court officially opened the Rose Festival activities by participating in the Queen Coronation ceremonies on June 1 in the Civic Auditorium. Marshall's Princess, Rochelle Anderson, was chosen to rule Rosaria.

Other activities Princess Cathy participated in included the Festival Fun Center, Waverly Childrens' Home, American Legion Auxiliary Wheelchair Parade and the annual Grand Floral Parade.

150 COUPLES ATTEND PROM; PARENTS EARN 'THANK YOU'

The Inn at the Quay was the scene for "Looks Like We Made It," the Senior Prom held May 5. Approximately 150 couples attended the Prom, which featured the music of "Galarneau."

"The band was really good. The musicians presented a variety of songs to fit any mood," commented Genetta Williams, senior.

Donna Minkler was selected Prom Queen from the court of seven Prom princesses, Maureen Flaherty, Kelly Jo Graetzer, Corine Locke, Suzy Rodway, Anita Stewart, and Monique Yoakum. Seniors nominated their court before the Prom and voted at the door.

"I was very pleased with how everything went. Senior Proms are meant to be special and indeed this was a special event, which I'll never forget," commented Nannette Blakely, Senior class president.

Special thanks from the Senior class cabinet went to Cleveland parents, who decorated the Prom and made sandwiches. Mrs. Betty Kale, Mrs. Helen Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Locke, Mrs. Libby Leaverton, Mrs. Joyce Manougian and Mrs. Linda Plummer, were those "who did so much to help us," Blakely said. Also Title VII coordinator, Mr. Ken Berry, received Blakely's thanks.

PLANE CRASH TAKES LIVES; WINTER CUTS ELECTRICITY

A variety of commonplace and dramatic events took place this year, ranging from the crash of a United airlines DC-8 to the Portland Winter Hawk's hockey team winning the Western division title. At press time, the Winter Hawks were in the finals for the Western Hockey League championship.

Mechanical difficulties and a lack of fuel caused the DC-8 to crash into two vacant houses in an east Portland residential area and nestle into a patch of trees, which cushioned the aircraft's fall. Ten persons were killed and 48 others were seriously injured in the accident.

The Portland Trailblazers had a disappointing season due to numerous injuries. Lloyd Neal, a veteran team member, retired after being plagued by knee injuries. The Blazers lost to Phoenix in the first round of the National Basketball Association playoffs.

Winter created havoc in Portland when freezing rain cut off electricity, telephone service and damaged personal property. Portland Public Schools closed their doors for four days.

November's general election gave Oregonians a new Governor as Republican Victor Atiyeh defeated incumbant Robert Straub.

VIOLENCE, PEACE EFFORTS MARK INTERNATIONAL SCENE

International and national news headlines for 1978-1979 painted a vivid picture of both violence and peace keeping efforts across the globe.

Violent protests and demonstrations, causing the death of an estimated 1500 people, shook Iran and led to Shah Mohammed Reza Rahlavi's departure. Also, tragedy struck in Jonestown, Guyana when U.S. Congressman Leo Ryan and four other men were killed, and then, urged by People's Temple cult leader Reverend Jim Jones, 900 of his followers committed suicide.

Chinese Vice Premier Teng Hsiao-Ping and U.S. President Jimmy Carter signed the Scientific and Cultural Exchange Agreement, which ended 30 years of hostility. Then, in April, peace was declared when a treaty was signed by Egypt's Anwar Sadat and Israel's Menachem Begin.

Pope John Paul I died of a heart attack after he had reigned for a brief 34 days. Elected to succeed him, Polish Cardinal Karol Wojtyla took the name of John Paul II.

Seattle was the site of the King Tut exhibit, which drew thousands of visitors to the Seattle Center Exhibition Hall to view the treasures. About 125 Cleveland students and faculty made the bus journey to Seattle in October.

INJURIES PLAGUE VARSITY IN EARLY GOING OF SEASON

Achieving the best record (5 wins-3 losses) since 1973, the Varsity football team took third place, East division.

Coach Gene Flippin had hoped for better, but "a rash of injuries plagued us in the early going. Both our starting running backs, senior Scott Bos and senior Marvin Hill, were hurt with leg injuries and both missed a lot of action."

Selected for the Royal "C" award was senior Andrew Bates. Team honors also went to seniors Stu Almand, most improved; Scott Bos, most valuable offensive player; Wade Overgaard, most valuable defensive player; Alex MacLean, most valuable lineman, and junior Rick Bayless, most valuable underclassman.

City awards, voted by league coaches, were won by senior Charles Leggett (first team East division and second team All-City), and seniors MacLean, Bos, Jeff Willard, and juniors Bayless and Paul Romanaggi (honorable mention offense). Bates, Overgaard, senior Scott Gill and juniors Dean Harvey and Dave Minkler earned honorable mention defense.

GETTING LEAD, BUT FAILING TO HOLD IT, MARKS SEASON

Shutting out Lincoln, 35-0, and losing in double overtime to Jackson, eventual City champions, highlighted the Junior Varsity football season, according to co-coaches Jim Engles, Jr. and Gary Tash, a teacher at Kellogg Elementary School.

"Slacking off when we had the lead cost us three of the games we lost," explained Engles. "We should have beaten Jackson, Wilson and Franklin." The win-loss record was 1 win, 6 losses.

"Our most exciting game was against Madison. Although we lost 46-28, a lot of scoring made the game a fun one to watch," commented Tash.

"We played a great many kids, which helped them to improve not only physically, but mentally too. This will not only help these athletes with football, but in other activities as well," believes Engles.

Chosen most valuable by his teammates was junior Bob Rinde, fullback. Also honored were sophomores Dave Hulett, best back; Jon Harwood, best lineman; Doug Diehl, most improved; Glen Anderson and Bill Kackman, honorary captains.

Cited by the coaches for improvement during the JV season were Anderson, Kackman, Harwood and Brad Willard, guard.

NETTERS SPIKE THEIR WAY THROUGH WINNING SEASON

Losing to Wilson in a play-off match for the right to compete for the City Varsity volleyball title was a disappointment, "but with our record of 14 wins and 5 losses, we had much to be proud of," praised Coach Pat Fraser.

With a starting line-up of two seniors, three juniors, and one sophomore, the girls had a strong pre-season, winning seven of eight matches. After losing the first two season contests, the Varsity squad defeated all remaining opponents in league play, including Wilson, a match considered "the highlight of our season," related Fraser.

"The girls worked very hard and improved greatly," continued Fraser. "This was the best year for Cleveland volleyball ever."

Voted the Royal "C" award was senior Ada Lee. Lee was also voted to the East division first team by the coaches. Nicole' Yoakum, junior, won the leadership award and senior Kathy Carlson received the most improved honor. Ronda Recknor, the team's only sophomore, made the East division second team.

Terrific season!"exclaimed Junior Varsity volleyball coach Lynn Anderson as she praised her team's "impressive" 14 win - 3 loss record.

Voted most valuable by her teammates was sophomore Lori Hammon, sophomore; most inspirational, Cara Beard, sophomore; and most improved, Becky Jones, junior. Also cited by the coach for "outstanding contributions" were Sara Clarke and Barb Benjamin, sophomores. "Definitely, these girls are ready for Varsity level competition," predicted Anderson. FROSH VOLLEYBALL SUFFERS FROM 'FRUSTRATING' SEASON

"Frustrating" was the word coach Pat Fraser felt best fit the season for the Freshman girls volleyball team, who struggled all season against league opponents.

A small player turnout and "then illness and injury kept numbers down at practices," explained Fraser, "but the few regulars did an excellent job."

Disappointments outnumbered the highlights as the win-loss record of 1-8 indicated. "Our unexpected win over Grant was the highlight of our season," recalled Fraser.

Recognized by the team were Nora Lee, most valuable player and leadership awards, and Morna Willits, most improved.

"As the season went on, the girls improved, and I'm confident they will contribute to the Junior Varsity squad next season," Fraser said.

BAKER WINS THREE HONORS; YOUNG SQUAD LOOKS AHEAD

Lacking experience, with only four seniors on the team, the Varsity boys soccer squad managed to win four matches in regular season play.

"Beating Madison for the first time was one of the biggest accomplishments this year," related coach Don Nelson. "Perhaps the worst disappointment was losing to Marshall both times," commented team captain Rod Baker, senior midfielder. Baker received post season honors in the form of being named to first team East division and winning the Royal "C" most valuable award and the outstanding contributor award.

Chris Haugen, senior defenseman, was voted most improved and senior fullbacks Lloyd Huskey and Manlik Kwong were cited for "outstanding defensive play," by their coach.

"Lack of fan support was one of the chief causes for our losses," commented Shawn Case, who led the team in scoring. "It really helps to know you have the school cheering for you," added Case, who said very few fans attended the matches.

"Although we were young this year, we're looking forward to successful seasons with more veteran talent," concluded Nelson.

Jim Nielson, sophomore, was the team's leading scorer. "We weren't getting it together in the beginning. Everybody was playing a one man's game, but towards the end of the season, we started working together and improving," Nielson related.

Others recognized by Coach Irwin for "outstanding performances" were freshmen Yin Nyan Hwee, halfback, and Tim DeVore, goalie. However, Irwin stressed, "Our team could not have accomplished what we did without each and every one of the players."

SOCCER TEAM FAILS TO WIN, BUT COACH PRAISES EFFORT

"We just lacked fundamental skills, and some breaks during our season," she said.

Noted for her "exceptional play" during the season was senior Ann Kleffner, voted most valuable by her teammates. Voted most inspirational was senior Kelly Graetzer and most improved, sophomore Joanna Barberis.

"Next year's Varsity squad will be stronger because of the number of returnees with improved skills," predicted Tompkins. "All the girls should work hard during the winter, spring, and summer to prepare for next fall."

THREE SENIORS BOOST SQUAD TO UNDEFEATED PIL RECORD

Compiling a flawless league record of six wins and zero losses, the boys' gymnastics team sent all its members to the City meet. Senior Rich Hendron placed seventh in floor exercise and eighth on the high bar in the finals.

Under the direction of first year coach Mike Manougian, the boys added "new and more difficult routines, which resulted in increasingly higher scores as the season progressed," he recalled.

Cited as the "backbone of the team" were Hendron, Tim Henderson and Lance Wood, selected Royal "C" winner. "Without these three athletes, our squad would have been in serious trouble," praised Manougian, about his three veterans.

Coach Manougian, when asked to consider the disappointments of his team's season, responded, "Perhaps all good athletes are never satisfied, no matter how excellent their performances. We all enjoyed a great season."

A building year" was what coach Nancy Rhodes termed the girls gymnastics season and the 2 win, 4 loss record.

"Our team was made up of unexperienced freshmen and sophomores, who will combine to be the backbone of our team next year," related Rhodes.

Returning this season were seniors Cathy Leaverton and Vickie Elle, junior Lorrie Johns and sophomores Sherry Hendron, Chris Tortorice and Tammy Hilaire. "We were unfortunate to have some of our returning gymnasts (Leaverton, Elle and Johns) plagued with illnesses and injuries," commented Rhodes.

'POSITIVE THINKING' PLUS TEAMWORK BRINGS SUCCESS

"Teamwork and a lot of positive thinking were attributes of our cross country teams," praised coach John Mears.

Beating 30 other teams to win the Tillamook Invitational "provided a real boost for the girls squad, which carried through the whole season," Mears recalled.

After placing second in City and senior Linda Becker taking second individually, the girls team went on to take sixth in State. Becker "did her best ever" by placing fourth, and her freshman sister, Cornelia, took 20th. "They, along with senior Lisa Langston, gave us positive leadership," the first year coach recalled.

Coming in eighth in City, the boys team did not enjoy "their best season, but never were there any hard feelings; they would jump right back in at practice after each meet," explained Mears. "Senior Chuck Retondo and junior Dave Case were our strongest male runners, and they both provided much leadership."

THREE GO TO STATE MEET; WRESTLERS EARN FOUR WINS

The competitors included sophomores Steve Baker, 98 lbs.; Brad Willard, 136 lbs., and junior Richard Nelson, 148 lbs. Sophomore Arron Booker had qualified, but was later disqualfiied from all further competition, after directing an obscene gesture to a referee at the City meet.

Highlights of the 4-3 season included placing second in the pre-season Sandy tournament. "It was a very tough meet; our second place was really an accomplishment," related Varsity coach Chuck Kearney. Another was the 41-27 victory over Madison; "we had to forfeit 24 points because three guys couldn't wrestle, but we still won big," he praised.

Senior Jeff Willard was voted the Royal "C" award; junior Larry Hanslits, most improved; junior Jim Purcella, most inspirational, and Nelson, the "best wrestler" award for most points.

TWO EARN TOP CITY HONORS; YORK LAUDS 'HARD WORKERS'

Poor turn-out hurt the Freshman wrestling team, as it did many teams throughout the city, but the Tribe overcame this handicap to post a 6-1 season record.

"We started the season with 21 boys, but due to ineligibility, bad grades and/or not cutting their hair, we finished with only 12 wrestlers," related coach Don York.

Two wrestlers, Richard Kluser and Peter Bellerby, both captured first at the City meet. Kluser ended the season with a 19-2 record in the 125 lb. division, while heavyweight Bellerby had a 14-2 record. "I'd say Peter was the most improved. He came out looking so-so, but ended the season as the heavyweight City champion," praised York.

York also praised a small group of athletes for their "especially hard work and good attendance at our practices." Those included Scott MacLean, Richard Schuchardt, Chester Louie, Bob Kackman and Grover Stacey.

RALLIES PROMOTE SPORTS; CHEER FOR ALL WRESTLERS

"I enjoyed taking on the responsibiity of advising the rallies," commented Miss Susan Sandstrom, business teacher. "I would definitely do it again if I were given the chance."

Varsity football rally "was better than it's been in a long time. We had good people who were easy to work with," related Erna Robertson, senior.

The Junior Varsity football rally also assumed the responsibility of cheering for the wrestlers during the winter sports season.

For the first time, a rally was selected exclusively for the wrestling teams. "It was fun and worthwhile but, unfortunately, not everyone took it seriously," said Anne Norville, senior.

To earn money for treats and gifts for the athletes before games, the Varsity football rally sponsored a carnation sale for Homecoming and the Varsity wrestling rally held donut and hot apple cider sales.

The Varsity team set a school record for percentage shooting of .433 during the regular season.

"The leadership from our seniors was outstanding," commented Williams. "We had no real superstars, although junior Stanley Stokes received second team, All East division honors. "We all really appreciated the group of junior boys, who organized a cheering section, at both home and away games, late in the season. We needed support like that from our fans," Williams emphasized.

Finishing in the middle of the pack in the Portland Interscholastic League's East division, with an 11-7 record, coach Tash was generally pleased with the season. "With more team consistency, we could have won more, but our big wins over Grant and Benson were very satisfying," Tash said.

'SUNDANCERS' PLACE THIRD AT CITY DANCE/DRILL MEET

Placing third in City Dance and Drill Competition in February at Wilson highlighted the season for the "Sundancers," who achieved "vast improvements since last year," praised Miss Carol House, adviser. With only 14 girls on the squad (six seniors, three juniors, one sophomore and four freshmen), "we outscored many of the teams who had beaten us in last year's City competition," she said.

Besides House, Miss Judy Marsh, the squad's choreographer, worked with the girls who performed regularly at winter pep assemblies and Varsity boys home basketball games.

Team captains were seniors Kelly Walters and Jeannine Guimary. Walters, a two-year "Sundancer," enjoyed the team because "Miss House was more experienced since it was her second year, and our new choreographer helped the team grow. We performed much more difficult routines this season."

"Overall, we had a great season," Guimary said, as the squad danced to the tunes of "Shame," "Macho Man," "American Bandstand Boogie," and, for City competition, "New York Suite with Raphsody and Blue."

GIRLS SET THREE RECORDS; INJURIES, TURNOVERS HURT

Even with an "unreal rash of severe injuries," the Varsity girls basketball team achieved the best record Cleveland has had in three years in league play.

With a 4-12 record, coach Jan Watt recalled, "We played half of our games with only seven ballplayers, but another setback was too many turnovers. In short, we beat ourselves too often."

Leading the team in scoring, assists and steals was senior Patty Moyer. "Doing an excellent job of directing our offense," Watt noted that Moyer set two school records, the most points scored in one game (24), and the most points scored in one season (217). Senior Maureen Flaherty, co-winner of the Royal "C" and honorable mention, East division, was second in steals, third in assists and rebounds, and led the team with the most rebounds in one game (18). "Mo was one of the most stabilizing influences we've ever had on a team," Watt praised.

First year player, Linda Becker, co- Royal "C" winner and voted most improved, led the team in free throws and rebounds, setting a school record of 225 and was second in total points. "Linda, who was honorable mention, East division, exhibited great concern for the team and established herself as a floor leader," praised Watt. Senior guard Ruth Raynor was voted the sportsmanship award.

GIRLS SHOW IMPROVEMENT, BUT MENTAL LAPSES HURT

"The girls showed a lot of improvement throughout the season. Their basketball skills increased and towards the end of the season they found the floor leaders they needed," praised Mr. Jim Engles Jr., first year coach of the Junior Varsity girls basketball team.

Although Engles was "disappointed" in the lack of participants and lack of wins (a 1-14 win-loss record), he did feel those who finished the season all "contributed to our team. We just did not have enough confidence, though; mental lapses hurt us," related the coach.

The team was headed by co-captains, junior Margaret Smyth and sophomore Karen Christopherson. High scorer for the season was freshman Mae Lui, who was also voted the most valuable. Sophomore Tammy Harvey pulled down the most rebounds and freshman Lori Perko was selected most improved.

"We have several girls who will be valuable to the Varsity program; Lui will help at point guard and freshman Marcia Colley, although she was injured during the season, will help out right away," predicted Engles.

NINE SCHOOL RECORDS FALL AS SWIMMERS EARN PIL WINS

"This was the most hectic season I've ever experienced, but also the most rewarding," remarked swimming coach Ms. Pat Fraser. "The kids swam really hard in meets and, as a result, nine new school records were set."

Experiencing a winning season, with a 3-2-1 record, the boys team was led by sophomore David Salazar, who was the only Cleveland member to qualify for the State meet. "David did an excellent job," praised Fraser. "He swam his two best personal times in the 50 free and the 100 breast." Salazar was voted the Royal "C" trophy and sophomore Glen Anderson was awarded most inspirational.

The girls, compiling a 2-3 record, "had some pretty tough competition," commented Fraser, "and they really didn't have the depth I would have liked." Award winners included senior Amy Heintz, Royal "C", and junior Lisa Nelson, most inspirational.

"Climax of the season was the City qualifying meet," related Fraser; "more kids than ever got to City in individual events."

VARSITY EARNS CITY CROWN; STATE DEFEAT 'AGONIZING'

"Fever Time 1979" and crowd enthusiasm were "vital contributing factors" leading to the Varsity baseball team's City championship, the first since 1967. Coach Jerry Gatto felt the "aggressiveness and character of every one of our ball players" contributed to the team's 22-7 season record, best in the City.

Although losing to Corvallis in the State quarterfinals was a "disappointment since we were one out away from beating the number one ranked team," Gatto stressed that "the thrill of 22 victories and a City championship were far better than one agonizing defeat." Cleveland beat Pendleton, 5-3, in the State tournament's opening round.

Cited for "outstanding performances" were first team All-City players, Doug Clarke, the team's leading batter; Matt Robirds, who led "our consistent pitching staff" with a new school record of 7 wins, 2 losses in league play, and Scott Bos, whose "steady play was exceptional."

Second team honors went to pitcher Terry Heupel and honorable mention recognition was earned by Dave Candello, Matt Clemo, Dave Minkler, Kris Ormseth and Jim Speciale.

'STRONG' DEFENSE, OFFENSE LEAD JVS TO FIVE VICTORIES

Boasting a strong defense and a productive offense, the Junior Varsity baseball squad showed "great improvement" by winning five out of their last six league games, compiling a 5 win, 4 loss record.

"I would say beating City champion Madison, 6-3, would be the major highlight of the JV season," commented coach Bob Freeman, who is retiring after 22 coaching years at Cleveland. "The main reason for my retirement is due to the weather conditions. It's very hard to keep a team motivated when you only play a couple of times a month," he said.

The JV players showed "impressive attitudes" after losing a close one to Benson, 9-8. "That game could have been the turning point in our season but we didn't get down, and we started playing better together after that loss," Freeman said.

Credited by their coach for leading the JV squad offensively were sophomores Alan Sarmiento, pitcher and first baseman (.467); third baseman, Ron Wylder (.429); catcher, Scott Smith (.407); and junior second baseman Jim Purcella (.382).

FRESHMAN BASEBALL TEAM UPHOLDS WINNING TRADITION

Ending their Freshman baseball season with a win-loss record of 6-3, coach Don Nelson related, "We haven't had a losing season for the last five years, and these ballplayers did a fine job of upholding this winning tradition."

Rain played a major part in Frosh baseball, but "fortunately, the rain didn't damper the players attitudes," Nelson said. "We had a hard working and dedicated team that showed up for every practice."

"Our best game was against the undefeated team from Madison. It was the last game of the season and we won, 3-1. The kids were really fired up for the game and played very well on both offense and defense. It was the most complete game of the season," complimented Nelson.

Rather than citing outstanding players, Nelson preferred to credit the entire squad for its "solid performance all season." "In each game, there seemed to be a different group of athletes who played exceptionally well and pulled us through," he recalled. No team awards were presented.

ONE DROPS VARSITY RALLY; BAT GIRL SHOWS DEDICATION

Although the Varsity basketball rally membership suffered the loss of one girl for "personal reasons," there were "no problems created which we could not work out," explained rally member Monique Yoakum, senior. "We had lots of fresh ideas that led to many new rallies."

Members of the Varsity basketball rally squad besides Yoakum included Carmina Betancourt, Nannette Blakely, Cathy Ellsworth and Lisa Langston. "The girls had many outside activities, but they managed to do a good job," related adviser Mrs. Joan Trapp.

Freshmen chose Joanne Bayless, Angela Duncan, Gina Garvin, Collette Smith, Betsy Stoinoff and Danielle Yoakum to cheer on its Frosh basketball team.

Providing support for the Varsity baseball team was "bat girl" Margaret Smyth, junior, who was praised for her "unusual amount of enthusiasm" by Varsity baseball coach Jerry Gatto. TRACK SENDS ONE TO STATE, EIGHT VARSITY ON TO CITY

Sending freshman Cornelia Becker to State in two events and eight to City wrapped up the season for the Varsity track teams. The boys compiled a 5 win-4 loss record and the girls, a 3 win-4 loss record.

Becker journeyed to the State meet and ran her personal best time in the 1500 meters to place 10th. She tied her personal best mark in the 3000 meter competition, but did not place. "Cornelia went for the experience more than anything else, and we were really pleased to have her represent us," praised head coach Cole Gardiner. Her sister Linda, a senior, could not run track late in the season due to a stress fracture of her foot.

At City, Becker took second in the 1500 and 3000; sophomore Glenn Anderson, third in the pole vault; junior Phil Richardson, fourth in the triple jump, with a jump of 42'6", a new school record; senior Alex MacLean, fourth in the shot put and discus; junior Teresa Tyler, third in the shot and discus; junior Jim Lloyd, fourth in the 100 meter dash; and the boys' mile relay (Lloyd, seniors Gregg Ruff, Scott Gill, and MacLean) took sixth.

440 RELAY FIRST IN CITY; LACK OF NUMBERS HURT

"Our record is not a good indication of the talent on this team; it was just a question of numbers," reflected Mr. Cole Gardiner, Frosh track coach. "We didn't have enough kids to enter every event, but the ones we were in, we captured firsts and seconds. It was the others, which the opposing team would sweep, that killed us."

The Freshmen boys team ended the season with a 2 win, 3 loss record and "a fine showing" at the City meet. Yong Song was a member of the 440 yard relay team, which placed first, and he also crossed the tape for a second place ribbon in the 70 yard high hurdles. Kevin Minor grabbed a fourth place in the intermediate hurdles, in addition to running on the winning relay team.

Song and Minor finished in a tie for the "outstanding freshman" award, the only award given to Frosh competitors. "I think that Kevin, Yong and Andy Gillcrist will be competing some at the Varsity level next year as sophomores," praised the coach. He also cited his distance runners, Randy Choy, George Choy, George Chin and Yin Nyan Hwee for their "hard work and great improvements" throughout the season.

"We want to have a good year next spring. Our main problem will be recruiting, but I feel the incoming Freshman class will be larger than this year's," concluded Gardiner.

LOCKE ADVANCES TO STATE; COACH PLEASED WITH GIRLS

Finishing tied for third in East division, and sending senior Bruce Locke to State competition highlighted the boys' Varsity tennis season while the girls team earned what coach Sue Sandstrom called "good potential for the future."

Although Locke did not place in State, he compiled a 14-3 record and was praised by coach Dave Jeans as "a really good player of great caliber." For the third time, he won his team's "outstanding player" award. Junior Mike Freeman was voted "most improved."

Girls coach Sandstrom explained, "We had a very young team. But if they keep working hard, we have a good chance at State next season." The girls finished with a 4 win, 2 loss record.

FUNDAMENTALS HURT TEAM, BUT IMPROVEMENTS PRAISED

After a slow start, the Varsity softball team, which "lacked experience with only four returning Varsity players," according to their coaches, pulled out four wins during the regular season Portland Interscholastic League East division play.

"Poor fundamentals plagued us in the early going, both in batting and base running. As the season progressed, so did our record. We won four out of the last seven games we played. Our pitching came on, too, and we became a much more aggressive team as a whole," agreed co-coaches Jean Frost and Terry Gerber.

Voted second team All-City awards were senior Ann Kleffner, pitcher and shortstop, and sophomore Ronda Recknor, pitcher. Sophomore Sarah Frost, catcher, and senior Diana Peterson, outfield, were honorable mentions.

Post season awards went to Kleffner, most valuable; Frost, most improved; and senior Cathy Ellsworth, most inspirational.

DESPITE A FEW SETBACKS, TEAM EFFORT KEY TO WINS

For the first time ever, School District No. 1 allowed a Junior Varsity softball league and, despite a slow start, Cleveland won two JV contests.

"We had no real superstars; team effort was the key to our wins against Jackson and Lincoln," commented coach Jim Engles Sr. about his team's fifth place finish. The Tribe defeated Lincoln, 13-11, and even after giving up four players to the Varsity team, they were able to beat Jackson, 19-17.

"We had many setbacks at the beginning of the season, but we came a long way," explained Engles. "Finding a catcher was a big problem, but sophomore Becky Swint volunteered and filled in brilliantly," praised Engles.

An "excellent season" was coach Stan McLaughlin's appraisal of the boys golf team, who finished first in the District tournament and went on to take eighth at State. The girls finished with a 2 win, 8 loss, 1 tie record.

Due to their 10 win record, the boys also earned the "prestigous honor" of being invited to play in the Saxon Invitational at Salem where the squad placed sixth. "Outstanding" senior players included Pat O'Neal, winner of the pre-season Cleveland Open, and Jim Brown, winner of the Harry Keats trophy as most valuable. Returning lettermen include sophomores Doug Diehl and Peter Norville. "I am particularly pleased to have them coming back; we hope to have another successful season next year," said McLaughlin.

"Highlight of the girls' season was winning our last two matches against Madison," commented coach Mr. Gary Crook. "We were a young and inexperienced team, but luckily everyone is returning next year," concluded Crook. Voted outstanding golfer was junior Susan Lambert; most improved were sophomore Debbie Wensel and freshman Robin Maxwell.

DONKEY B-BALL A FAILURE; BANQUET AT SHERATON INN

Featuring Seniors versus Faculty, the seventh annual donkey basketball game was hampered by a poor turnout. Each year Quill and Scroll takes on the responsibility of helping raise money for the TOMAHAWK and LEGEND staffs.

LEGEND held a variety of fund raising events, including selling stationery and a bake sale. Quill and Scroll member and LEGEND business manager Judy Ha related, "Donkey basketball was unsuccessful so we had to compensate for the loss of funds by having more fund raising activities."

Quill and Scroll also sponsored the annual Journalism banquet, held at the Sheraton Inn in mid-April. Honoring the 1978-79 and 1979-80 staffs, the banquet featured the announcement of positions for the 1979-80 staff, recognition of editors and special awards.

To become a member of Quill and Scroll juniors and seniors must be in the top third of their class, have served a year on either TOMAHAWK or LEGEND, and be recommended by the adviser.

SLIDE SHOW OF CLEVELAND HIGHLIGHTS NHS INDUCTION

Thirty nine seniors and juniors were inducted into the Cleveland chapter of the National Honor Society in early February after Portland's January ice storm had postponed the ceremony.

"Our induction was a highlight. Mr. Harold Trautman, science teacher, gave a slide presentation of Cleveland that was delightful,' related Mrs. Jean Heintz, adviser.

Five seniors were commended for their outstanding performance on the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test: Kathy Carlson, Doug Clarke, Jeani Guimary, Kris Ormseth and Gretchen Spence. The annual exam is taken in the fall of the Junior year.

"Our goal was to be more than just a club with a picture in the yearbook. We helped with Project Second Wind, a food drive for the needy, and got involved in other community projects," revealed Gary Roberts, president.

Requirements for membership in the honor society include a 3.5 grade point average, approval by a vice principal, and a letter indicating types of services rendered to the community. "Membership varies from class to class, and this was a good-sized group," said Heintz of the 39 inductees.

NEW DRAMA GROUP DEVELOPS TO WORK ON IMPROVISATION

"Incognito", a project of Thespians, a national drama honorary, consisted of seven members of the drama department. "Membership was based primarily on motivation along with an audition. The members worked mainly out of class, and did a lot of experimentation with exercises and technique," related Mrs. Bev Stocking, adviser and drama instructor. "We all worked well together and didn't seem to have the usual power problems," related Lorette van Broekhuizen, "Incognito" member.

Masque and Dagger consisted of 20 members, most of whom were freshmen. "Interest is the only requirement for this drama club," related Dennis Hipes, Masque and Dagger member.

Combined efforts of Thespians and Masque and Dagger resulted in three plays at CHS this year. Those featured included "Arsenic and Old Lace," "The Effect of Gamma Rays on Man-in-the-Moon-Marigolds," and "Rowdy Kate". After "Man-in-the-Moon-Marigolds," the art and foreign language departments combined to produce an art and cultural fair entitled "Images."

BSU PRESENTS STAGE PLAY; RED CROSS AIDS COMMUNITY

Black Student Union (BSU) enjoyed a successful year," commented adviser Ms. Chris Poole, librarian. Activities focused on money-making projects like selling punch at "Phantasmagoria", and holding a dance in January, which featured Jim Friday, radio station KBOO disc jockey. In May, the play, "Raisin In The Sun" was sponsored as another fund raising event. All monies went towards the BSU scholarship fund.

"With our nine person membership, everything went smoothly. We had a better understanding of how to accomplish our goals," commented president Mark Tellis.

"Red Cross is basically a club where students can get a better perspective about ways to help their community," related club adviser, Mrs. Joan Risberg. The club elected no officers. Activities included a cake walk at "Phantasmagoria", blood drives in December and February and volunteering at the Red Cross Center during the ice storm in January, which paralyzed the city.

"Red Cross is a worthwhile club. We can reach out and help individuals, who have problems helping themselves," related junior Carol Vann.

LANGUAGE CLUBS WORK HARD TO BOOST THEIR TREASURIES

Spanish club has once again had a successful year with many new club members. Everyone was enthusiastic and was eager to participate in the fun activities," related Ms. Barbara Stavig, club adviser.

Juniors Adrian Molina and Ronald Saborio, Costa Rican exchange students, who were hosted by the club, stayed in Portland for five weeks.

While activities throughout the year included a skating party at Oaks Park and a Spanish movie, the highlight was selling pinatas at "Phantasmagoria," a variety night in October, where the Spanish club made over $100.

"French club had an active year. Club members, although only a few, were very helpful," expressed Mrs. Denise Enzler, club adviser. Activities included in the club's year were a dinner over Christmas vacation, onion soup sale, and pastries which were sold at "Phantasmagoria."

FOREIGN CLUB SELL GOODS TO INCREASE THEIR FUNDS

Although we may not have accomplished as much as we wished, we had a fun year," commented senior Frank Stewart, German club president.

Activities included a dinner at the Rheinlander restaurant and selling candy and Advent Calendars, which raised about $100 for the treasury. The money earned will be added to the American Field Service fund, which helps sponsor an exchange student.

"Members have been very helpful in contributing their time towards the club," commented Mrs. Laura Hook, adviser.

"This was a pretty good year for the Russian club," related Kevin Muir, president.

The club went bowling and roller skating, and were hopeful of attending a one day Russian camp at Portland State University in May. The club also profited from a successful bake sale at "Phantasmagoria", a carnival-like variety night in November.

MATMEN COMPETE FOR AAU; BOWLERS POSSIBLY DOOMED

The Crazy Horse Wrestling club was designed to foster interest in international style wrestling and to advance eager wrestlers to national and international levels of wrestling," said Mr. Chuck Kearney, coach. The club had three members place in State, one champion, and three qualify for the National Amateur Athletic Union (AAU) meet.

Meeting at Portland State University, the wrestlers worked out with college wrestlers. They attended three developmental meets (learning meets for students 16 years and under), two State meets, and plan to continue summer practices.

The club raised money by selling posters, which was "a big success." The money went for travel and sending members to clinics.

The Bowling club suffered all year long, according to its adviser, Mr. Jim Engles, Sr. "Participation was very poor and no officers were ever elected," he said. The club disbanded shortly after Christmas vacation. "At least 30 people are needed to form a league of 10 three person teams, but only about 12 to 14 bowlers showed up for practice each Wednesday," he said.

"I really hope we can get more participation. If not, it seems highly probable that the bowling program will be doomed," asserted the adviser.

ROYAL 'C' ADDS MEMBERS; GROUP EXHIBITS 'APATHY'

For the first year ever, all Varsity letter winners were contacted via an extensive mail campaign and informed that membership in the Royal "C" club was open to them. This boosted the club's membership to over 100 members, but "with such a large club, it was difficult to meet," related Kris Ormseth, president.

Other commitments, athletic and activity, prevented the officers "from doing as much as we had hoped," Ormseth said, "but we did manage to accomplish some major goals." The Royal "C" club sponsored a "very successful" dance early in the year, netting $500. Concerned about Cleveland's weight training program, the club purchased an Olympic freebar for the weight room and full length mirrors covering one wall of the room.

"We wanted to do what we could to bring the weight room's standards up to those of other Portland high schools," commented Ormseth.

The Apathy club had "a very good year" due to an abundance of apathy. After telling 80 blank membership cards, the club did absolutely nothing the rest of the year, which President Tod Finley said, "accomplished our goal."

FOUR CHS VETERANS RETIRE; BOWERS LEAVES VP POSITION

Four members of the faculty (administrative vice principal Mrs. Helen Bowers, language teacher Miss Thelma Hobbs, math instructor Mr. Merton Meinicke and speech teacher Mr. Wayne Durrell) announced their retirements effective the end of the 1977-78 school year.

Bowers served at Cleveland for 23½ years, first as counselor, then as vice principal. "She was a major link between the students, teachers, and administrators and was influential in much of the decision making here at Cleveland," praised Mr. Glenn Hill, principal.

Hobbs taught several foreign languages (Italian, Latin, German) and English during her 31 years with the District. "Her speciality was German," commented Hill.

After teaching 20 years in South Dakota, Meinicke came to Portland in 1959. "Here he taught math and an occasional science course," Hill said.

"Durrell, who served 14 years, taught English and was the speech team adviser," Hill recalled. "He will be missed as will all these fine educators."

CHS ABANDONS MOD SYSTEM IN FAVOR OF 8 PERIOD DAY

Cleveland suffered the loss of a 23½ year veteran this year with the retirement of Miss Helen Bowers, administrative vice principal. "There came a time when I'd rather do what I want to do instead of what someone else wants me to do," explained Bowers as the reason for her retirement. Mrs. Sandi Page was named coordinator of supervision when Bowers left in January.

A major decision, made by the administration, was announced in March; Cleveland will abandon the modular system and return to an eight period day. Principal Glenn Hill gave seven reasons for the need for a "more structured schedule"; high numbers of class cuts, third highest dropout rate, increased violence, drug use, unwanted visitors, neighborhood complaints and vandalism, and the present two-mod classes do not meet the state required minimum of 130 clock hours and must be supplemented with 20 hours of "independent study assignments," which Hill believes cannot be effectively monitored.

Predicted enrollment for 1979-80, 1360 students (down 95) meant a projected loss for four reachers. Hill said he expected resignations and retirements to affect the decision regarding staff cuts.

FAIR SHOWS STUDENT ART; TEXTILE ARTS COURSE SOON

Our enrollment was up a bit this year, commented Mr. Allen Steffens, art department chairperson. "We have so many good students."

"We had planned to have some art shows at the different area offices, but so far we've only had one," remarked Steffens. The department had an art fair at the Area III office in April. "The fair featured a display and sale of student art work, and we were privileged to be a part of it," he said. "It gave our students a good opportunity for exposure."

Next year the department plans a new class. "We plan to offer a course in fabric art," said Steffens. The course, textile arts, will offer needlecraft, stitchery, quiltmaking, weaving, and textile design. "This will strengthen our elective program a great deal," he emphasized.

"We were fortunate to have an artist come in for a day to demonstrate to the students," recalled Steffens. Michael Dente demonstrated sculpturing in March.

NEW SPECIALIZED PROGRAMS BEGIN FOR STUDENTS AT CHS

Several new courses were offered this year in the department and there were more students taking business classes," expressed Mrs. Blessing Sattler, department chairperson. "I look forward to continuing interest in the new management and marketing specialized programs which offer courses unavailable in other Portland schools."

A change in the department involved the appointment of business teacher Mrs. Sandi Page to the post of coordinator of supervision as the result of the retirement of Miss Helen Bowers, vice principal. Miss Sue Sandstrom took over Page's classes for the remainder of the year; it has not been decided who will be hired next year to fill the spot left by Page.

About 30 students participated in the new business management and marketing program. Although enrollment in business courses at Cleveland was higher than that of other schools in the city, Sattler was "kind of disappointed" more students didn't sign up for the new program. "We plan to concentrate our efforts on recruitment to increase our numbers for 1979-80," she said.

HULL ASSUMES NEW DUTIES; ONE COUNSELOR JOINS STAFF

Added to the counseling department this year was Mrs. Joyce Liljeholm, who divided her time between counseling and teaching two Career Education/Self Awareness classes. Also, Mr. Jerry Gatto became co-athletic director and was forced to relinquish some of his counseling duties.

An added responsibility was added to Mr. Bob Hull's duties. "In addition to counseling 11th graders, he also took over the job of test coordinator," related Mrs. Gloria Sandles, department chairperson.

"Also Mrs. Gwen Piercé worked as part of the counseling staff with the 'English as a Second Language' students," said Sandles. "She helped students from foreign countries overcome the language barrier in addition to counseling."

In January, Sandles took a leave of absence for health reasons, and Hull was appointed chairperson.

For the grade school forecast program, a slide presentation, put together by Sandles and Mr. Harold Trautman, science teacher, was used for recruiting purposes.

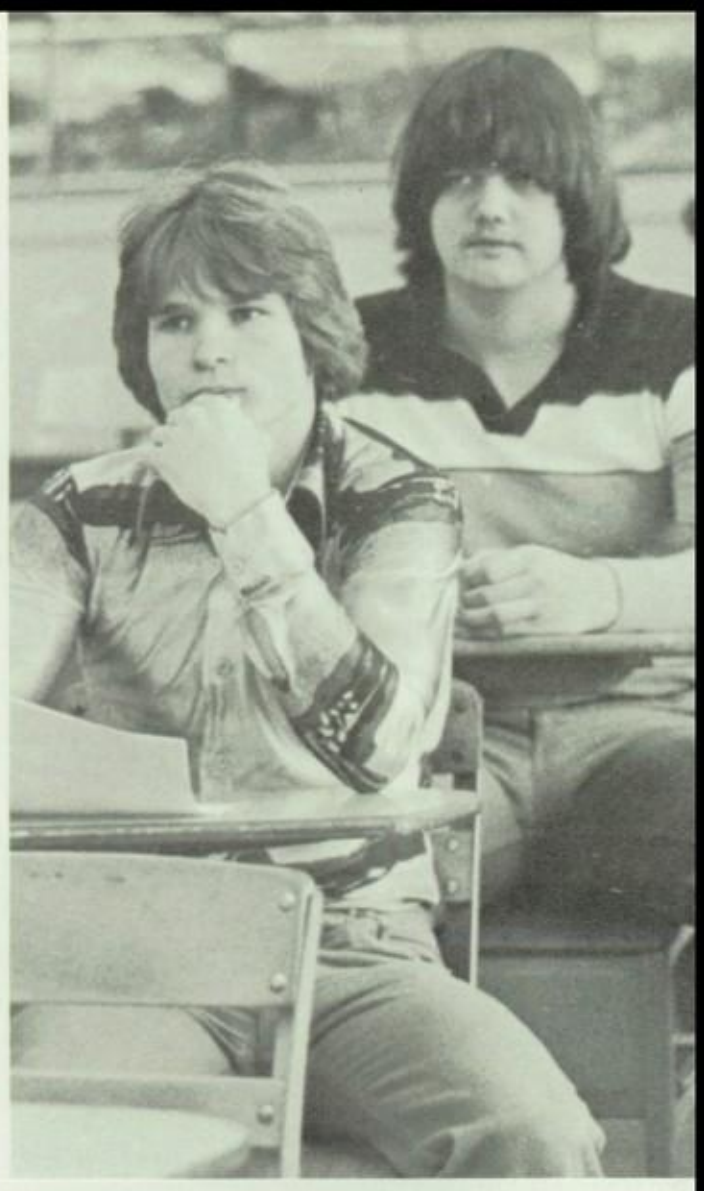
CLASS REVISION COMPLETE; POET ACCOMPLISHES GOALS



Major changes in the English department were instituted for the 1979-80 school year. "I am very encouraged by what has happened," related Mrs. Marsha Young, department chairperson.

Among the changes, composition courses will be offered in the fall only, and all sophomore through senior classes will be one semester instead of a full year. Most literature courses will be in the spring.

In conjunction with the social studies department, a full year course in humanities will earn students a credit in both English and social studies. The class will give students a "sense of the past", Young said, by using original sources like writing, music, visual arts, and architecture.

Howard Aaron, a poet artist-in-residence, found it "fulfilling" to work with students in the English as a Second Language program. He sponsored a "Villanelle Day" in March, when students wrote their own French lyrical poem. Last, "I was able to devote time to my own writing, which was nice," he said.

WOLLETT PRAISES TEACHERS; DEPARTMENT OFFERS ITALIAN

Added to the foreign language department this year was Mrs. Valerie Ormont, who taught English as a Second Language full-time.

"Italian was part of the curriculum for the first time in several years," related Miss Loretta Wollett, head of the department. "Both Latin and Japanese will be offered next year."

"A highlight for the department was the International Christmas Hour, a gathering of students who sang carols in different languages," Wollett said. Language camps were offered again this year.

"Our foreign language teachers are, I think, the best gathering in the state. Each teacher is top notch and other people say so also," praised the department chairperson.

HOME EC NUMBERS INCREASE; WOODSHOP GETS NEW LATHE

"Our Personal Finance class was very successful," according to Mrs. Mary Cavagnoro, home economics chairperson. "Enrollment in this class and in our freshman home economics course both took a big jump."

"The Child Development classes studied children and their characteristics for nine weeks and then for another nine weeks, we invited children, three to five, to our Playschool," revealed Mrs. Joan Trapp.

"Enrollment in the shop classes was about the same, but three of us had to take up the slack due to the loss of a teacher last spring," commented Mr. George McElmury, industrial arts chairperson.

Both departments received new equipment; the cooking classes got a microwave oven and the wood shop a lathe. "We will continue to update the equipment we have, but new supplies always help," related McElmury.

TWO SCORE HIGH IN MATH; ONE NABS STATE SEVENTH

Highlighting the math department's year was the "excellent performance of several students in the National Math Association of America contest," according to Mr. Larry Jackson, department chairperson. While Cleveland captured third in City and ninth in State overall, juniors David Litt and Phil Richardson placed in the top four among Portland's 11th graders. Litt went on to capture seventh in State competition, but national results were not known at press time.

"Although our enrollment did drop quite a bit this year, the numbers in our advanced courses increased although our curriculum does make it easier for the less-gifted students," explained Jackson.

New next fall will be a large graphic computer which will be shared with Franklin; each school will use it for fixed amounts of time. "My main hope is that we continue to get quality students in the advanced programs," expressed Jackson. "The period system shouldn't affect us too much although it may destroy the accelerated math class since some may not want to stay until 3:20 p.m. But those who are really interested will stay," he predicted.

BAND TOURS AREA SCHOOLS; ANNUAL EVENTS MARK YEAR

As a fund raiser, members of the instrumental music department sold cheese and sausage to earn money for uniforms and contest entry fees. Musically, the 50 member Concert Band toured the area grade schools while the Jazz Ensemble performed in their usual "swinging" style at the Clackamas Community College competition in March. (Results were unavailable at press time.)

Along with playing in the Christmas program and at graduation, the Orchestra provided the instrumental accompaniment for the spring musical, "Finian's Rainbow." In addition, all three groups participated in the programs, Harvest Music Festival in the fall and Springtasia in the spring, which are presented each year to the Cleveland community. "We were pleased with our audiences this year," praised Mr. Robert Kerns, conductor.

"Due to declining enrollment in the instrumental area, we will start a beginning band class for those who have never before played an instrument," related Kerns. "We hope it will increase interest."

TRIP TO HAWAII 'ENJOYABLE'; A CAPPELLA ENTERS CONTEST

Entering a swing choir contest, competing in a choral festival, and performing in Hawaii were the major highlights of the choral music department's year.

For the first time, the Clevelandaires participated in the Mt. Hood swing choir contest, which featured scat (improvisational) singing. Results of the May appearance were unavailable at press time.

The A Cappella choir was an entry in the Portland State University Invitational Choral Festival in April. Again, results were unknown at press time.

Vacationing in Hawaii for the third time in its history, the Clevelandaires spent a week, during spring vacation, performing and sightseeing on the island of Oahu. "We had a great time and performed for very appreciative audiences," recalled Mr. E. Bruce Johnson, vocal music director.

Although no new groups were formed this year, Johnson felt, "Both Sophomore Boys' Quartet and Triple Trio strengthened the quality of all of our choral groups."

P.E. ENROLLMENT CONSTANT; HEALTH ENROLLMENT RISES

Under federal law (Title IX), Cleveland was required to institute co-education physical education classes this year. Football, wrestling and basketball units were exceptions to this rule.

"Co-ed classes were our biggest achievement toward equal rights. I hope for much success and fun with it," expressed Mrs. Margaret Gordon, department chairperson.

Enrollment, while staying constant in P.E. classes, rose in health courses. "We tried to even out class numbers, but some were still very small and others large," related Gordon. "Overall, the number of students and classes stayed about the same."

Weight training and dance team were added to the department's curriculum this year. "Weight training was offered to both boys and girls, but no girls signed up," she said.

NEW FACILITIES COMPLETE; TEACHER RESIGNS MID-YEAR

Long awaited completion of the science wing on the third floor became a reality when the department was able to move in during mid-February; the official dedication was May 3. The $750,000 project was funded through special five year building levy.

Some of the major reasons for the 17 month delay in construction were fire marshall disapproval of the insulation, and some cabinets had to be rebuilt due to water damage caused by the ice storm in early January. "But now we have some of the most economical and functional science rooms in the state," boasted Mr. Harold Trautman, department chairman.

Along with the change in facilities came a change in science curriculum. Aeronautics, Junior Counselor Training and Natural History, Lapidary, and Skills Emphasis Science were the new classes offered.

Physical science teacher Mr. Johnnie Brown resigned at mid-year to begin a career with Union Pacific Rairoad. "I just wasn't comfortable any more. I wanted to try something else because I couldn't see myself being a teacher the rest of my life," he said. Mr. Mark Pinder was his replacement.

GRADUATION REQUIREMENTS CHANGE IN SOCIAL STUDIES

"Any student graduating from high school should first be equipped in the basic skills and next to that is the concept of social studies. He should have some knowledge of the workings of the government instituted in this country," remarked Mr. Dale Henderson, social studies department chairman. "I don't see how a student can consider himself equipped to deal with society's problems if he doesn't have some knowledge of where he stands with respect to his nation's history."

Since Henderson became chairman two years ago, department changes have been made. A combined social studies/English course, called Humanities, and a full year history course for sophomores are two new proposals for 1979-80.

The state has added one half credit of social studies to the graduation requirements. "We will meet this summer to determine what Cleveland's requirements will be," said the chairman. "The department also plans to adopt some new history books."

"Social studies teachers are charged with a very serious responsibility, and Cleveland has a very congenial, competent staff," praised Henderson.

JUNIOR WINS STATE HONORS; DELI FEATURES SANDWICHES

Horticulture's "Green Thumb" program experienced a slight decline in enrollment, but the "quality of the students improved considerably," said Mr. Ernest Anderson, work experience coordinator. Junior Joe Beighley won state honors in a horticulture contest and will go on to national competition in Kansas City in the fall.

Mrs. Pat Morene, special education department chairperson, again invited students to her room to make Christmas ornaments. "We also made stoneware pie plates and cups," she said. Teacher's aide, Mrs. Peggy Miller, "was a great help to the program," said Morene.

Marketing program enrollment increased about 20 percent "since we permitted freshman in the program," remarked Mr. Howard Grogan, marketing instructor. The Deli, a student-operated store, sold sandwiches during the lunch mods.

LIBRARY STAFF TOO SMALL; BUDGET HURTS JANITORS

This was our worst year for quite awhile, since we only had seven custodians. Due to the lack of budget, we didn't even have enough relief men," expressed Mr. Van VanSteenwyck, head custodian. "The building just kept getting dirtier and dirtier since we didn't have enough workers.

"When a person would quit, it would take a long time to get a replacement, up to two months sometimes. The salary was just too low to get anyone, but the people we did have were hard workers," praised VanSteenwyck.

"The library is the social capital of Cleveland. Besides the cafeteria, there are more people in the library than anywhere else in the building," related Ms. Chris Poole, head librarian, who said her staff was too small to control the "disorder."

The library orders 400 to 500 books a year. Besides the new books, Poole has "a dream" of acquiring carpeting for the library and new round tables. Poole also hopes to involve the teachers and students more in the use of the library.

ARTISTS HELP BUILD SETS, PAINT FACES FOR CARNIVAL

Art staff students participated in "Phantasmagoria," a carnival-like evening, where they painted faces, and, later in the year, presented a magic show, featuring local magicians, including Cleveland graduate Eric Slade. "The show didn't go over too well with the reviewer of the school newspaper and not many people attended," expressed Mr. Norman Eng, staff adviser.

Responsible for publicity throughout the school, including posters, banners, and program covers, the Art staff also helped the Stagecraft students build and paint sets for the schools plays and spring musical.

"One disappointment was the fact that we wanted to do more murals, but the Executive Council and our staff didn't get together ... it was the fault of both groups," concluded the adviser.

With the proposed eight period schedule day in effect next year, Eng predicts Art staff will be smaller because of probable scheduling conflicts.

TWO EDITORS SPLIT YEAR; ADS PAY FOR EXTRA ISSUES

Issues of the 1978-79 TOMAHAWK were again split among two editors, with Kris Ormseth serving in the fall and Paul Horowitz editing the spring editions.

"I really enjoyed working with some creative people during my term," said Ormseth. "I think it proved to be a positive experience for every staff member who put forth any effort to make it one."

"It was also a good feeling to be surrounded by competent people," he continued. "Brad McMurchie and Todd Kelly raised the most money ever by a business staff. Amy Gibbs did an excellent job as photo editor, and Lisa Nelson handled the circulation responsibilities without an hitch."

As a result of the advertising sales by McMurchie and Kelly, the Senior Edition, published May 17, was a 12 page edition and an extra issue, June 1 was an eight page "cub edition", organized and produced by next year's staff.

Adviser Jan Watt also had praise for the year's efforts. "I was impressed with the Fall leadership, and Paul was effective in upholding the traditions of our newspaper," she said. "It was another good year for us."

LITTLE RECOGNIZED GROUP, STAGECRAFT, GETS MENTION

Apart of the performing arts department of Cleveland, Stagecraft, a behind-the-scenes group, was responsible for building sets, all technical effects, including lights and curtain drops, and other related production necessities.

"We never get any recognition if the sets are good, but if there's a mistake even if it's beyond our control, then the staff gains poor publicity," related co-adviser Mr. Norman Eng, who works with drama teacher Mrs. Bevins Stocking.

"This has been one of the busiest years because of two unexpected productions presented by the Black Student Union and the advanced Drama club," related Stocking. "All sets were done well considering only three students returned from the previous year."

Stocking and Eng have been co-advisers for the past 13 years, while both conducted regular classes; Stocking instructs beginning and advanced drama, and Eng teaches art classes.

NEW PHOTO STYLE ONE GOAL; PHOTOGS RECEIVE RECOGNITION

A new style was the main goal of the 1978-1979 yearbook staff and our dedicated adviser Jan Watt. We took on a totally different look by adding circle pictures to the book, hoping to achieve an up-to-date modern look. Also photo credits accompany outstanding pictures to acknowledge special effort by our photographers," related Julie Porcelli, LEGEND editor.

"This year's theme was a musical one, as evidenced by the introduction, based on song titles, which was beautifully done by seniors, Kelly Jo Graetzer, Judy Ha and Anne Norville," Porcelli said.

In April, 11 journalists traveled to San Jose for a national journalism conference. A beach trip was also planned and the annual publications banquet was held at the Sheraton Inn in late April.

"A unified and cooperative staff helped each other through the rough times and special thanks go to Maureen Flaherty, page design editor, who did a terrific job seeing that all layouts were consistent; Kathy Carlson, copy editor, assisted with her remarkable writing talents, and Judy Ha, business manager, led the staff with advertising and fund raising campaigns necessary to produce this yearbook, whose budget was entirely staff-supported," Porcelli said.

SERVICES HONOR SENIORS; 336 QUALIFY FOR DIPLOMAS

With about 150 seniors and early graduating juniors attending, Baccalaureate services were held at Reedwood Friends Church on May 29, and Commencement exercises followed on June 2, at the Civic Auditorium.

Invocation at Baccalaureate was given by Principal Glenn Hill, a bishop in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints. The benediction was presented by administrative assistant Mrs. Sandra Page, a deaconess in the First Christian Church. Nannette Blakely and Dennis Hipes presented the scripture reading; Pattie Roberts reflected on her class' past four years, and Jennifer Robison recited poetry.

At the graduation of the 336 class members, Gretchen Spence presented the class motto, "When I Paint My Masterpiece," Tom Gustafson spoke on the class theme, "Looks Like We Made It," and Mark Mattson entertained the large audience with a trumpet solo of "The Way We Were." Dr. Ernest Hartzog, assistant superintendent, spoke also.

WORK TO GAIN CLASS UNITY A HIGH '79 CABINET PRIORITY

"We, as seniors, should know what our priorities are, and if you have a position you should fulfill it, and I feel our cabinet did just that," expressed Senior class cabinet president Nannette Blakely. Fund raising activities included selling caramel apples, carnations, class cards, and operating the haunted house and jail, the largest money-making project, at "Phantasmagoria." "Responsibility is the key. We had to work together in order to gain our class unity," she said.

Senior cabinet adviser, Mrs. Gloria Sandles, was praised for her support during the year. "She related to us and was very open-minded to all of our suggestions," commented Blakely.

At press time, Baccalaureate was planned for Reedway Friends Church, May 29, and the Senior Prom at the Quay in Vancouver, on May 5.

CABINET REACHES SET GOAL: RID CLASSMATES OF APATHY

"We achieved most of our goals satisfactorily. We rid our class of the apathy that existed in our first years at Cleveland," expressed Junior Class president Rick Bayless.

Several fund raising activities were sponsored by the class of 1980. Sold were sno cones, drinks at the annual Executive Council Picnic in Powell Park in the fall and carnations. The cabinet also sponsored a newspaper drive, but the biggest success was the frosty treats. "We made a lot of money selling sno cones," said Bayless.

"Rick was a good organizer. He got as much work as possible done when only seven out of 15 cabinet members attended the meetings regularly," praised class adviser Mr. James Harrison. "Our secretary Nicolé Yoakum assumed the additional responsibility of informing all members about meetings and activities. She did a good job, too."

"All in all, the group worked very well together. Although they were independent, all class activities were carried out well and responsibly by the cabinet," complimented Harrison.

LACK OF COOPERATIVE UNITY HANDICAPS CLASS CABINET

Speaking candidly, Sophomore class president Ben Joseph reflected on his class cabinet's performance: "I was extremely disappointed personally. It was so frustrating because at the beginning of the year, I was confident we had a good chance; we had the numbers, enthusiasm and a good financial base carried over from our Freshman year. Yet with about 30 elected people, it was really hard to coordinate activities so all these people could be involved."

Vice president Astrida Orle agreed in part with Joseph's sentiments. "Our cabinet meetings were not well attended; I'd say about a third did not come regularly, but, all in all, those who did come did work, so I'd rate the year as a successful one."

Class activities included a pie- in-the-face booth at "Phantasmagoria," bake sale, cookie sale and class card sale, car wash, paper drive and, tentatively, decorating a Rose Festival float.

"If our plans for May and June go well, we should have about $1000 in our treasury," Joseph predicted.

FRESHMEN START OFF SLOW BUT CREATE TOGETHERNESS

"We were all very lost at first because we didn't have a Freshman class adviser to get us started," recalled president Lori Perko. "Our main goal at the beginning of the year was to get going as soon as possible. Throughout the year, all of the cabinet members worked very hard to develop class unity."

Fund raising projects for the Freshmen included a spirit button sale, Easter bunny cookie sale and cotton candy sale held every Tuesday and Thursday in the Commons. "Our cotton candy sale was really a good money making project until it got to be so continuous that it became old," she related.

Special thanks went to delegate Abby Roberts "who spent a lot of time organizing projects for the Freshman cabinet this year. I can't thank her enough for all of her contributions," praised Perko. "She was a great help to us."

FAILURE OF DONKEY B-BALL HURTS LEGEND FUND RAISING

Poor attendance at the annual donkey basketball game between seniors and faculty "really hurt" the LEGEND funds this year. "In the past, this has been one of our major sources of money," explained business manager Judy Ha. The six member staff worked hard to fill the gap left by the failure of the basketball game. Miscellaneous fund-raising activities included selling stationary and baked goods and were initiated to bridge the gap.

The sale of boosters brought in over $2300. Combined with the sale of advertisements, the total reached approximately $5000. "Since the LEGEND staff receives no funds from either the School District or the student body, the sale of these ads and boosters is extremely important to the publication of the yearbook," related Ha.

"Our business staff worked really hard and well together," praised editor Julie Porcelli. "They were very organized and independent." Other staff members included: Kelly Graetzer, John and Stan Voll, Anne Norville, Carol MacLaren and Corey Green, who moved to The Dalles in December.
